tance of Indian Ocean and hostile postures of some of its neighbours; and

(b) whether modern ships have been added to Indian Navy and aged ships have been phased out?

THE MINISTER OF DEFENCE (SHRI PRANAB MUKHERJEE): (a) Modernization of the Indian Navy and review of the force level is an ongoing process keeping in view the prevailing security environment, threat perceptions, emerging technologies and availability of funds. The Indian Navy maintains an appropriate force level to meet the requirements of national security. A number of new projects have been approved by the Government to modernize the fleet. Some of the important measures taken in this regard are as follows:—

(i) Decision to acquire an aircraft carrier.

(ii) Approval for indigenous construction of an Air Defence Ship (ADS).

(iii) Approval for indigenous construction of 6 frigates and 3 destroyers.

(b) Yes, Sir. Induction of modern ships and decommissioning of the aged ships are continuous process in Indian Navy.
